1. Print me in actual size using thicker paper.
2. Cut out the dashed lines and fold the solid line.
3. Place A & B on each side of the corners of the horse's mouth to measure the total width of the mouth. Or measure the mouthpiece of a bit you know fits your horse's mouth.
4. Mark with a pen or take a picture to remember the width.
5. On our website, www.fagerbits.com, you'll find a size guide and recommendations for every bit to help you decide to go up or down a size, should you find you're between sizes.
